HINTS FOR AFTERNOON TEA

The English custom of drinking tea at 5 o'clock in the afternoon has taken a firm hold in recent years in this country, and the house mother who can offer to her friends a fragrant cup of tea with some dainty sweet is always popular.

Among hostesses who like to give an individual touch to their tea there is a fad just now to flavor the beverage with orange.

This is secured by rubbing lump sugar over the surface of fresh orange peel until it absorbs some of the oil in the peel, then packing it away in airtight jars until needed.

Lemon as a tea flavor has many admirers. An addition to the lemon is to stick three or four whole cloves into each slice, first cutting the slice into fancy shapes.

Some hostesses are serving at their 5 o'clock candied cherries in the cup of tea, and candied pineapple, cut in small, fancy shapes, is still another tea accompaniment.

There are, too, this season a number of novelties in crackers for serving with tea. The usual unsweetened cracker is spread with some kind of home-made marmalade, and souffled crackers are novelties. To make these, split in halves a good, rather hard round cracker and soak for 10 minutes in enough ice water to cover the crackers, then drain, lay them in a pan, dot with butter, allowing half a teaspoonful to each half, and bake in a hot oven until puffed up and brown.

Cinnamon toast is an old fashioned dainty that is revived for the tea table. Toast shapes of thin stale bread, from which the crust has been removed, until brown. Lay on a hot plate. Butter generously and then sprinkle with granulated sugar, cinnamon and a little salt.

The hostess who serves sandwiches with tea wants them to be as inviting as possible, both as to taste and appearance. A good way is to cut two shapes of bread of the same size, but of a different kind of bread, perhaps graham and white bread. When these pieces are cut in star or round shapes they are very dainty. If a hole is cut in the center of the upper slice so that the filling may show it enables the guests to select from the plate passed to them the filling preferred.

Nut rolls are great favorites. They are made from pastry five by three inches, rolled an eighth of an inch thick. Spread with any preferred jelly and sprinkle with chopped pecan nuts and roll. Sprinkle granulated sugar on the outside; then bake in a hot oven.

CRETONE BREAKFAST

JACKETS FOR YOUNG GIRLS

For a young girl's breakfast jacket there is nothing prettier than white cretanne, printed with a small flower in pink, blue, green or lavender, and finished about the throat and wrists with deep frills in English eyeletting embroidery, or with machine embroidered frills resembling the old-fashioned tambour work. Particularly charming is the half-fitted jacket model which barely covers the hips, has slightly cutaway fronts from the waistline, where the slight fullness of the garment is held in with a self-material belt, and a deep V-neck partly fitted with a net tucker.

Another pretty model, but very like a Chinaman's shirt, closes in the back, is belted at the normal waistline and has kimono-cuts sleeves finished at the wrist with a tight-fitting band. This type of jacket should never be trimmed with lace or muslin frills as they would wholly destroy its Oriental character.

Either one of these easily made little jackets, worn with a white tailored skirt in crash, mohair or serge, makes as dainty and as quickly put on a costume for breakfast as any girl could possibly desire. It is also one which can be made up from materials usually to be found about the average house, since any half-worn white skirt of reasonably heavy material will answer for the lower section, while the jacket can be made from an extra window curtain, a portiere or even the coverlid or the valance of a bed.

ODDS AND ENDS

Take baby's old stockings which are too small, cut off half of foot, and put on under stockings. This keeps baby nice and warm when he still too young to wear drawers. The same size shoe still can be worn.

The importance of clean dish cloths, now that diseases are known to be caused by germs, cannot be too strongly impressed upon the minds of all housekeepers. If it is black and sour throw it into the fire. Keep your dish cloth clean.

From a pair of men's trousers there can be made a practical play suit for a child for out of door wear in cold weather. It can be made after the fashion of the "Little Tudor" suits. With a suit of knit underwear beneath and a sweater on top a child will be comfortable in the coldest weather.

The piece of carpet commonly employed under the weighted brush in waxing floors is less effective, and more difficult to manage than a bunch of engineer's "cotton waste" used under the brush in the same manner.

A "box table" on wheels will hold all the dishes used on a family table and can be pushed from dining room to kitchen, saving hundreds of steps in table clearing and setting.

Back muscles can be saved if sewing machine and washing machine are operated by water motors. These motors even have been adapted to filling bicycle tires.

MAN'S OVERWORKED POCKET-BOOK

Some girls are refusing to go out with their men friends unless they are allowed to share expenses, but they find the right sort of men do not like it. It is hard to do the unpopular thing, and to take the stand that you are as well or better off than the young men with whom you associate seems to be unpopular.

Tact can accomplish something, and if self-supporting girls begin to take it for granted that they were to bear their share in an outing, and worked together to get the idea into the heads of their men friends, custom would gradually alter it, perhaps. It isn't a good custom, and has been run into the ground, until it is a serious burden to many young men who want to take their girl friends out, but whose salaries hardly warrant the double expenditure. But aside from the salary, the idea of a man paying all a girl's expenses simply because they are out together is a wrongheaded idea.

It would be interesting to know what many girls think of the matter.

FOR GRADUATION.

The dress itself is of plain lawn, having neck and sleeves gathered with ribbons, and a soft ribbon sash is worn.

The bolero and band around the skirt is of net with a simple design worked with braid, applique, and linen threads run through the net.

TAFT REFUSES OFFER

FOR CHICAGO TEAM

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 16.—The Chicago National league team still belongs to Charles P. Taft. Following a conference with Mr. Taft today, John T. Connery and Francis D. Mayor, representing a Chicago syndicate, issued the following statement:

"After a conference with Governor Tener in Harrisburg, Pa., on Sunday, we made a proposition to Mr. Taft today to pay him $750,000 in cash for all of the stock of the Chicago National league baseball club, which offer he declined, stating he would not accept any other price than that named in his original proposition to Mr. Connery."

"He states further that if he does not sell to us he will keep the club and run it himself."

"We are not at liberty to name the price at which Mr. Taft holds the club."

"Mr. Taft states that he expects to be in Chicago in the next few days at which time we may or may not continue our negotiations. As far as we are concerned we believe that the offer made by us is a very liberal one in view of the existing conditions which will entail an additional outlay of approximately $500,000 for a new grandstand and field in Chicago which we have promised 'Cubs' fans in the event that we are able to purchase the club and to which they certainly are entitled."

COMMISSION TO GO

OVER MINING LAWS

Washington, March 16.—Senator Walsh today reported favorably to the senate from the mines and mining committee the bill providing for a commission to investigate the precious metal mining laws, and recommend a new code of mining laws to congress. The bill provides for the appointment by the president of three commissioners, two to be mining lawyers of experience and one a practical mining engineer. The commission is to hold public hearings in the principal mining centers and report a tentative code of mining laws to congress within one year after appointment. The commissioners will be paid $500 per month and expenses. The bill appropriates $25,000 for the work.

ANOTHER CANNING FACTORY.

American Fork, March 16.—At a well attended meeting of the citizens of this city, the probable establishment of a canning factory was discussed and a committee appointed to make investigations and secure data upon the probable cost of operating a plant of sufficient capacity to take care of all beans, peas, and tomatoes that could be raised here. Joseph A. Law of the National Evaporating company was present at the meeting and gave some data on the possibilities of a canning factory. It is the opinion of those interested that American Fork and close vicinity would be an ideal location for a canning factory of this kind and that it could be operated at a good profit to the owners. The land in the bottoms, which is a rich, loamy soil, is naturally adapted for raising beans and peas, and the bench land is the very best for the production of tomatoes. The splendid railway facilities which the town affords for transportation makes it an ideal location for such an enterprise. It is the intention, if decided to build, to have the factory in operation so as to take care of the crops for the coming season. Acreage for raising tomatoes, beans and peas will be contracted for immediately it is decided to build. Much enthusiasm is being shown and the enterprise will undoubtedly be started.

FOX HAS AN EASY TIME WITH ATTELL

Butte, Mont., March 16.—Jimmy Fox of San Francisco tonight had things his own way with Monte Attell, winning a decision at the end of the twelve rounds, slugging and poking him at will. Fox's speed seemed to bewilder Attell and he appeared to do little more than attempt to defend himself. Attell was slow, out of condition and his showing a disappointment, every round going to fox by a wide margin. Attell clung to Fox like a plaster, the referee continually forcing the lads apart.

The accident occurred about ten days ago. Mr. Woolley had gone to San Francisco on business, and while crossing Market street was struck and severely injured by an automobile.

Mr. Woolley left this city for California about four years ago. Latest advices received in this city by a son, Ernest R. Woolley, are to the effect that his condition is anything but encouraging.

MAN'S BODY FOUND;

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED

Price, Utah, March 16.—A badly decomposed body was found yesterday near the charcoal ovens at Spring Glen. There were no papers on the body, but a tailor's tag on the coat makes it practically certain that the body is that of Robert Jameson, a civil engineer, who disappeared from Helper several months ago, leaving behind him money, pay checks and all his personal effects.

There are evidences of foul play, and as thorough an investigation as the condition of the body will permit is being made. The sheriff's office is conducting the investigation. Justice Middleton, official coroner, is sick in bed.

the 1500 has been finished and next in order will be the task of cross-cutting to the Yuba dyke and the Black Ledge ore bodies.

Contrary to expectations, a highly mineralized material was encountered in the dump, but how much importance can be attached to it will not be known until the assayer returns the samples sent him.

It will be of interest to stockholders of the Amalgamated company to know that the first official tryout of the pumps recently installed was made this week in raising the water to the surface and Superintendent Van Wagoner reports that everything worked out satisfactorily. The volume of water in the shaft has not reached the stage, however, that the services of the pumps are required, but in contemplation that a greater flow will be encountered as cross-cutting progresses, the pumps were placed in readiness to meet any emergency.

The management of the Yuba lease has been busy the past week installing the new hoisting plant and it is expected that it will be ready for commission within the next few days. Meanwhile development work has been progressing on the 900 level with most gratifying results.

Over thirty cars of ore were shipped this week from the Prince Consolidated mine. Manager Godbe expects to begin the shipment of tailings from the Bullionville dump about April 1.

J. B. Wheeler, who has a lease on the Manhattan, one of the Consolidated Nevada-Utah properties in the Highland district, has a car of ore ready for shipment.
